

‘We all had friends who didn’t come back. But we didn’t discuss it. Instead there was always a lot of banter. Perhaps it was our way of talking ourselves out of the horror. We had to keep the likelihood of not coming back out of our minds. It was like a family.’ Dennis Wiltshire - Lancaster Bomber Sgt, WWII.

What story will your Will tell?

If the RAF has done something meaningful in your life, please do something meaningful in return.

Please think about putting a gift in your Will to the RAF Benevolent Fund, the leading welfare charity for the RAF family. Dennis has.

We receive no government funding and 70% of donations given to help RAF people – past and present – comes from gifts in Wills. Without these, much of what we do would simply not be possible.
